Over the past four years, sports betting has emerged from the shadows and into the mainstream.

But where do you begin if you're unfamiliar with the terminology?

If you're betting a +200 underdog, you will win 2x your money for every dollar wagered - $100 to win $200, $10 to win $20, $1 to win $2, etc.

For the underdog, the juice will differ depending on the gap in ability between the two teams.

Most states have some form of legal betting, but about 20 have full online wagering.

Even if you're not creating your own statistical models, tracking specific props and understanding how they're priced can help give you an edge over the sportsbooks.
