The basketball betting sites assess each team's respective strengths and release moneyline odds according to their perceived chances of winning. Point Spread Bets

The sportsbooks give the strongest team (the moneyline favorite) a handicap, and you can then bet on who will cover the resulting point spread for example, Golden State -2.5 points.

Parlays
You can wager on the winner of the NBA Championship, each division or conference, the number of regular season wins each team will earn, whether a team will make or miss the playoffs, and player markets such as the NBA MVP award or Defensive Player of the Year.

You can read our reviews of the top NBA betting sites and find one that appeals to you, as they all have different positive attributes.
