Today vintage Chanel handbags, jackets and evening dresses are among the most sought-after clothing and accessories for fashion lovers all over the world.

The first Chanel shop was established in 1910 in Paris on rue Cambon by the young milliner Gabrielle Chanel (1883–1971), who had picked up the nickname “CoCo” while working as a club singer.

She followed this success with a couture house, opened in 1915 in Biarritz.

Following the death of her mother, her father left her in an orphanage where she lived until the age of 18.

In 1926, she introduced her first little black dress, reclaiming a color that had once been reserved for mourning and working-class women.

That same decade, she debuted her perfume, Chanel No.

Chanel closed her fashion operations during World War II, then returned to the industry in 1954 to design for the functional needs of modern women.

The 1957 two-tone slingback pumps had a practical heel height while offering a bold statement in the black tip of the shoes.
