Blackjack can be played with 1 to 12 players.

If the player beats the dealer or if the dealer busts and they don't, then they as many coins as they can.

Players can choose to play with a different number of decks to learn the game.

By default, the dealer stands if their hand is a 17.

If a player believes that the dealer will get a blackjack, they can buy insurance by giving the dealer an equal amount of their ante.

A deck of cards consists of 52 cards, with 4 distinctive subgroups.
